

State Fair Ready For Visitors

The William T. Collins Shows are set up on the Midway, awaiting an expected flood of visitors when the 1970 Missouri State Fair opens its gates Saturday. W. C. Askew, Fair secretary, has predicted the finest Fair yet, based on the number of judging entries, the entertainment lineup and pre-Fair publicity. A complete roundup of attractions at the Fair is included in The Democrat-Capital's annual State Fair section, page 1B.

They called on their attorneys general, who also met here, to promote the "closest Appeared To Give Order cooperation" in the drug control effort.

The two chief executives hoped to end territorial controversy forever between their two nations by setting the boundary between Texas and Mexico in the center of the Rio Grande.

Since the end of the Mexican War in 1848, the constant shifting of the Rio Grande has generated endless squabbling by putting small parcels of land first in one country and then in the other. After the presidential announcement, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told newsmen the two governments had worked out a system of "compensating factors" which would come into play whenever the river bed shifts. Details of the agreement were to be disclosed in a communique

Ziegler said at present one major area is still in dispute, a tract of about 2,000 acres near Presidio, Tex.

Nixon expressed confidence that the Mexican Congress would approve the agreement. He said it would be submitted to the U.S. Senate as a treaty, and

Hospital Revises Policies

In an attempt to reduce the numbers of visitors at Bothwell Hospital, the hospital will stop publishing a list of admissions, effective today.

That was the word Thursday from Don Feeback, hospital administrator, who said the policy would apply to "routine medical" cases only, and not accident cases.

Feeback said a list of births and hospital dismissals would continue to be made available to the press.

In a further effort to reduce the jamming up of visitors during regular visiting hours, Feeback announced the adoption of "open visiting hours." Under the new system, also effective today, visitors may come at any hour between 11 a.m. and 8:30 p.m.

With visiting hours spread over several hours, it is hoped that large numbers of visitors at any one period can be avoided, Feeback said.

Feeback said floor nurses would be instructed to limit visits to 10 minutes and only two visitors per patient. Visitors in the pediatric ward and intensive care units will be limited to parents, grandparents and guardians, he

Obstetric visiting hours will remain unchanged at 3 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 8:30 p.m., Feeback

The hospital administrator said "abuses" of the present visiting system, and the large number of visitors coming at peak periods, led the hospital to change the system. Feeback conceded that stopping publication of hospital admissions "would not be appealing to the public.

Cost of Living Continues Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) - Living $121.07 per week. After adjustcosts posted the third straight monthly rise of four-tenths of one per cent in July. However, the government said today that, when seasonal factors were considered, it represented a slight easing of the nation's inflation in 20 years. Price increases for food, transportation, medical care and some housing costs were the major factors in last month's rise that pushed the Labor Department's Consumer Prince Index up to 135.7.

The figure means it took $13.57 last month for every $10 worth of typical family pur-chases in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the July hike, on a seasonally adjusted basis, was three-tenths of one per cent. This was the same as the seasonal figure in June and was the smallest two-month rise in more than two years, on a seasonal

The bureau also reported that average weekly earnings of approximately 45 million rankand-file workers rose $1.02 to ment for price increases, this represented a slight rise in purchasing power, but purchasing power was still nearly one per cent below a year earlier

Consumer prices were 5.9 per cent above July of 1969, a slight drop in the 6 per cent rate of inflation that has prevailed for the past year and a half.

Food prices rose slightly more than seasonally in July, with larger increases for eggs, bakery and dairy products, the bu-reau said. Meats, poultry and fish rose less than usual for July, and vegetables declined.

The report said over-all food prices rose five-tenths of one per cent, housing was up fourtenths, transportation rose sixtenths and medical care seventenths. The only major category to decline was clothing, down six-tenths of one per cent.

"There was a smaller increase for houses and a slight decline for used cars, two major items that had risen considerably during the spring," the re-

"The Light of the World" is the morning sermon of Rev. Medford E. Speaker, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church (Southern Baptist). Mr. Stuart Pace, Deacon of the Week, will read the Meditation in Scripture, John 12:44-50. The Lesson in Scripture is taken from John 8:12-20. Mrs. Peggy will be singing a duet. Rev. Speaker's evening message is entitled "A Good Man's Conversion." Bible passages are from Psalm 118:1-10 and Acts 10:1-8. A duet will be sung by Miss Connie Cordes and Miss Becky Speaker.

Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church (Southern Baptist) the congregation will hear the pastor, Rev. Jess R. Wallace, bring the morning message. The choir will sing "Heaven Came Down and Glory Filled My Soul." A mixed quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Baker, Jim Edwards and Raymond G. Hall will sing "He Touched Me."

During the evening hour guests in the surrounding area are invited to join in seeing the Billy Graham film "His Land." This picture presents authentic sights and sounds of the Holy Land. The church will observe the ordinance of baptism at the beginning of the service.

The Community Church at Sixth and Osage will hear Pastor Robert L. Kessler preach on the subject "The Problem of Unbelief" from the Text II Kings 6:24-7:20.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Christianity faces a new challenge in this racially segregated country as black men seek to reshape the white man's churches in their own im-

A welter of new sects has attracted a quarter of South Africa's black majority and some churchmen see this as a measure of failure in the white Christian establishment.

Black priests have fired the first salvos in a battle for a greater voice in established churches.

And an interdenominational reform movement is under way to resist the distortion of church life caused by more than two decades of officially sanctioned race segregation.

The priests pleaded for Africanization of the church while accepting the temporarily un-alterable fact of apartheid in public life. They demanded more openings in the hierarchy for black priests who, they charged, are now often "dumped in the bush in non-viable parishes.'

Though control of all established denominations is securely in white hands, most South African church leaders officially condemn apartheid. The major exceptions are the three powerful Calvinist Dutch Reformed churches which spiritually underpin ruling white Afrikanerdom and seek to justify apartheid in Biblical terms.

The Afrikaner churches were the only ones to repudiate a "message to the people of South Africa" in which the interdenominational South African Council of Churches (SACC) last Disregarding Prime Minister John Vorster's warning that "pulpit politics" will not be tolerated, the SACC joined the Christian Institute of Southern Africa in seeking a Christian answer to apartheid. It recently sponsored a manifesto warning Christians of their responsibility as voters in the country's April 22 general election.

A major problem facing reform-minded clergymen is the social gap between white and black Christians caused by apartheid.

Though there is no law against multiracial worship, the three Afrikaner churches enforce segregation. Social separation makes it physically diffi-cult for different races to worship together even in multiracial denominations. In addition, most rank and file white Christians by now accept social segregation no matter what their churches say.

Methodists Greet New Woman Pastor in South

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) -The members of East Brewton and Cedar Hill United Methodist Churches have welcomed their new pastor-a woman. The Rev. Miss Jean Spikes has never found being a woman a drawback in her work.

"In my early ministry, there may have been some slight barriers for a lady minister," she says, "but they deteriorated. I have always received a warm welcome. Miss Spikes has been in the ministry 22 years and her only regret is that she did not answer the call sooner. "My work is not just a profession, it's a very definite call. The call came early in my life, but I would not accept it because of a desire to go into the field of medicine." When finally the call became too strong to be denied, Miss Spikes entered Vennard College, a Bible College in Oskaloosa, Iowa. Later she went to Troy State College for her liberal arts work and finally completed a prescribed course of study from Emory University. Her life has been meaningful and rewarding. "I feel as if I have been useful," she says.

"I left the pastorate after 16 years to become an evangelist," she says. "I traveled in seven foreign countries working with the Oriental Missionary Society preaching in their churches throughout the Far East and also lecturing in their seminaries. In the United States, I have

The U.S. President also reported that he and his host had made progress on the problem of salinity in the Colorado River after it crosses the border where California, Arizona and Mexico meet. Mexico wants more water from the upper Colorado to reduce the salt content.

The 26-hour visit by the President and Mrs. Nixon to the west coast resort was marked by unusual warmth and elaborate expressions of friendship between the two leaders. Nixon said he was "particularly touched" by the welcome.

The two presidents, who met last near Del Rio, Tex., 11 months ago, were greeted with streams of confetti, mariachi bands, festooned donkeys, clanging church bells, bouquets of flowers and a turnout of several thousand in the narrow cobblestone streets.

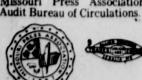

At a lavish welcoming luncheon, the 85 members of the offictal parties feasted on Mexican delicacies such as red snapper, lobster in sour cream served on pineapple and five desserts. Costumed students from the University of Guadalajara performed local songs and dances.

Danger On Milk Subsidy

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) -Missouri public schools, as well as those in the rest of the nation, face the costly possibility of losing the federal money toward cost of milk in school cafeterias, a spokesman for the State Department of Education said today.

Earl M. Langkop, director of school food services, said information from Washington indicates that if the $104 million school milk subsidy is in the final agriculture appropriation bill, "the budget director will be ordered to freeze the special milk portion of funds or restrict use to milk served to needy children only."

The subsidy in the past has amounted to 4 cents on each half pint of milk. That has permitted the schools to provide the milk free to needy children and for 2 cents or 3 cents to other youngsters.

At this point, Langkop said, he has a federal notice that the milk subsidy will not continue after Aug. 31, unless a new order is issued and the nature of that order is not known.

Langkop said if schools do not receive notice of the change ahead of time they may arrange for milk deliveries and then discover they will have to pay the full price out of their alreadypinched budgets.

Egyptians Reject Scheme

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Egypt today rejected American surveillance of the Middle East cease-fire by satellite and U2 spy plane, calling the plan a "pretext for espionage." Political circles in Israel said this showed Cairo had "something to Such reconnaissance, "even if undertaken over Israeli-held territories, could provide Israel with additional advantages in the present delicate circumstances," said Cairo's semiofficial newspaper Al Ahram.

The Egyptian statement came as a surprise. When the United States announced earlier in the week that it was undertaking reconnaissance and had informed Egypt, it was generally under-stood that it was being done with Cairo's consent.

Al Ahram said Egypt's stand had been known all along. It added that the United States "must adopt a neutral stand regarding this issue" if it is interested in seeing peace in the Middle East.

Al Ahram said Egypt also had turned down an American suggestion for Soviet high-level reconnaissance. But both the U.S. suggestion and the Egyptian rejection were formalities because the Soviet Union already has large numbers of military personnel on duty with Egypt's air and missile forces, and needs no high-flying planes or spaceships to keep it abreast of developments. In Israel, opposition parties demanded that the Israeli parliament be recalled from its summer vacation for an urgent debate on Israeli-American relations, and the state radio said the lawmakers probably would return to Jerusalem on Monday. The opposition was expected to try to exploit the rift between the U.S. and Israeli govern-ments over Washington's refus-al to give full backing to the Israeli charges that Egypt has violated the cease-fire by moving SAM antiaircaft missiles closer to the Suez Canal truce line. The Arab parties to the cease-fire, Jordan's King Hussein and Egypt's President Ga-mal Abdel Nasser, were meeting in Cairo to discuss strategy at the coming indirect peace talks which U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring will hold. The two Arab leaders also were expected to reach some agreement on ways to deal with the Palestinian guerrillas who are trying to sabotage Hussein's peace efforts. There is a part-time or fulltime local veterans' employment representative in almost 2,000 State Employment Service offices in the 50 states.

Seventy - one Veterans Assistance Centers also list government and private job openings, give employment counseling, refer veterans to available jobs and advise veterans on employment and vocational training.

All wartime and peacetime veterans are eligible for these services, regardless of how short their term of active duty.

But one note of advice: Before you go to a State Employment Service office or a Veterans Assistance Center. first get in touch with or visit a representative of your state veterans agency or county veterans service office or meet with a local representative of one of the major veterans service organizations. These men can perform a most valuable service.

Any one of them can (and will) make a phone call introducing you to the local employment man. You will then be "known" when you go in asking for help in getting a job. You won't be just another "number." Men who work in this field say this little step you are entitled to makes a world of difference. unemployment payments.

Experienced advisers in leading veterans service organizations also have this advice to offer veterans:

Don't take the first job offered. Look around. Too many young veterans get into a job, whether it's the right one for them or not, and then stay there for life, in a rut.

If you live in a city, there may also be a municipal office for job referrals — separate and distinct from the VA office and the state employment office. Look there, too.

Now suppose you can't find work within a reasonable time. If you have had 90 days of active duty, or if you have a serviceconnected disability (regardless of how few your days of duty), unemployment payments.

The size of these payments and the length of time they'll be paid vary from state to state. The maximum weekly amounts range from $36 to $76; in some states additional amounts are paid for dependents. The maximum period for which benefits are payable ranges from 12 to 39 weeks. You must file your application for unemployment compensation within a time limit which also v from state to state.

Applicants should register for work at the nearest local state employment office and ask for benefits at the claims office of the State Employment Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Aviation Administrator John H. Shaffer says the supersonic transport airplane (SST) will be the most productive machine in transportation history, and not simply a luxury for the

"The SST is not a frill, not something just for the few," Shaffer said Thursday. "It has not a damn thing to do with the "People who want to fly are going to use and need a faster, more productive piece of equipment," he added.

Shaffer made the remarks in a talk before FAA officials and employes at a ceremony marking the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of flight service stations-small radio stations set up to give airplane pi-lots weather and direction infor-

"It is 50 years since the airplane became useful in a commercial and social sense," he said. "The SST is as logical in the evolution of aviation as those old airplanes you saw on a movie screen today, as natural in the evolution of aviation as running is after walking."

Shaffer referred to a statement this week by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. that the SST would be a frill which could benefit only about 1 per cent of air travelers, and would be a thing for some jet-setters.

Proxmire discussed a report by a House-Senate subcommittee on economy in government which declared that the SST would cost $3 billion, would earn little or no return, and would be of little public benefit.

The House has voted $290 million to enable Boeing Co. and its engine partner, General Electric, to start building two prototype versions of the 1,800-milean-hour SST for flight testing. The issues are now before the Shaffer said government and industry would accept and master the challenges to the environment that an SST might present, as they have met and mastered earlier problems of aviation.

Manson Claims Mistreatment LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sul-

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing len and scowling, Charles M. Manson told the judge in the to the Vietnam war, Sen. Robert Sharon Tate murder trial that J. Dole, R-Kan., said today he he was being mistreated in county jail, and "it's like kickwill seek to bar members of ing a dead man.'

Manson is seeking a "ceaseand-desist" order against the sheriff's department.

"I have not heard or seen any evidence thus far of interference with the preparation of your case," your case," Superior Court Judge Charles Older said after listening to Manson for 45 minutes Thursday.

He postponed the rest of the hearing on the Manson's motion until today so the trial could go

The shaggy-haired, bearded Manson took the witness stand, with the jury absent, before the regular court session. He said he was receiving "barbaric" treatment and was forced to go through "a lot of confusing procedure" in jail.

But he added: "It makes me stronger. I can't be discouraged. I don't know what discouragement means.

Manson, 35, leader of a nomadic clan, is on trial with three women followers in the murders of Miss Tate and six

Manson said that several times daily he had been subjected to "shakedowns" in which deputies made him disrobe and then probed his body.

He said he wasn't allowed to have pencils and paper and that mail from his friends was stopped while "hate mail" was allowed to get through. He said a "dark screen" interferes with vision and voices when he interviews prospective witnesses.

Dole questioned whether funds received by the antiwar committee should be classified "The mental aspect is much more cruel than the physical," he said. "If someone comes in and beats you up it's all over ... But I have to go through your sex paranoia and your inecurity over and over.

Under cross-examination by a county counsel, Manson said the skin searches had dwindled lately; he had plenty of pencils in court and had interviewed three witnesses in the attorneys' room of the jail. In trial testimony, the prosecution called a series of witnesses who described the bloody

Three officers-Jerry De-Rosa, William Whisenhunt, and Roberts Burbridge—testified that they were among the first at the estate and described the arrest of caretaker William Garretson, 20, who was released after questioning. Burbridge and DeRosa both noted that brightly lit "Christmas tree lights" glowed on a split rail fence around the mansion and floodlights were on. Key state witness Linda Kasabian has said the estate was dark on the murder night, except for a small garage light. Miss Tate's maid, Winifred Chapman, told of arriving for work and finding the bodies-a scene she couldn't describe.

Missouri's Goose Hunters Will Have To Keep Informed

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) -A Missouri goose hunter this year will have to know just where he is and what kind of goose he is shooting at under regulations announced by the state Conservation Commission

The state has been chopped up into one general zone, three special zones and two closed season zones. The season dates and the bag limits vary, too.

Nesting failures in the far north Torced the intricate restrictions this year, waterfowl biologists said.

The state outside the special or closed season zones will have a goose season running from Oct. 24 through Jan. 1, but in that area the season on Canada geese is from Oct. 24 through

The general daily limit on geese is five and the possession limit is five, also. But not more than two may be Canadas nor more than two may be whitefronts (specklebellies)-or one

Canadas and whitefronts is four combined, but not more than two whitefronts in the total.

The two closed season zones, to protect building flocks of giant Canadas that are nesting in Missouri, center around Montrose Lake in Henry County and Bull Shoals Lake with Missouri arms in Ozark and Taney coun-

The Montrose zone in Henry County is bounded on the north by Missouri Rt. 18, on the east of each. Possession limit on by M13 and 52, on the south by Canadas and whitefronts is four M52 and Rt. K and on the west by Rt. K. The boundaries of the Bull Shoals zone have not yet been set.

> The other three zones with season dates and goose limits: - Swan Lake, bounded by U.S. 65 on the west, U.S. 36 on the north, M5 on the east and M240 on the south-season from Oct. 24 through Dec. 17 or until 15,-000 birds are bagged. The harvest limit last year was 25,000. The limits are five a day and five in possession but the daily limit on Canadas is one and the possession limit four.

Squaw Creek, including all of Atchison and Holt counties and the portions of Andrew and Nodaway counties west of U.S. 71-season from Oct. 24 through Jan. 1 on blue, snow and whitefront geese and from Oct. 24 through Nov. 22 on Canadas. addition to the regular six and Scaup are the little, dark ducks that dive at a duck hunter's blind and then peel off with a whistle of wings.

The duck season runs from Oct. 24 through Dec. 17. Special limits apply on some species. The daily and possession limits on mallards and wood ducks are two and four. On redhead and canvasback the limits are one and one.

Associated Press Sports Writer Joe Kapp and the Minnesota Vikings are still $1 million apart and money alone can't bridge the gap between Jim Nance and the Boston Patriots.

In contrast, all that stands between Roger Brown and the Los Angeles Rams is a 29-pound weight lag. But it appears that Brown's gain will be the Fearsome Foursome's loss.

While a lawyer for quarterback Kapp threatened the Vikings with a multimillion dollar court suit and the Patriots reached an impasse in contract talks with fullback Nance Thursday, the Rams quietly "retired" defensive tackle Brown, a 10-year National Football League standout, because of his 329-pound impost.

"Roger had three fine years for the Rams and I'm sorry to see him go," said Coach George Allen. "He has at least three more good years . . . if he takes care of himself.'

Big Roger reported to the Rams' training camp at a notso-svelte 334 pounds-about 34 over his playing weight—and was barred from practice pending a drastic reduction. But, despite rigorous efforts, he managed to shed just five pounds before the club lost patience.

The former All-Pro performer, acquired by Los Angeles in a 1967 trade with the Detroit Lions, was placed on the re-

Attorney John Cook, representing Kapp, the NFL's No. 1 holdout, charged that the free agent quarterback's negotiating efforts were being sabotaged by 'gentlemen's agreements' among the club owners.

"If Joe is unable to play football because of those tactics," Cook told the San Antonio News, "they (the owners) will be confronted with a multimillion dollar anti-trust and fraudulent connivance suit.

Nance, who, like Kapp, played out his option last year, had been bargaining through representatives, with the Patriots for several months. But the club said Thursday that the negotiations had been broken off.

"While the financial terms were satisfactory for both parties, and have been for several weeks," Pats President William H. Sullivan Jr. said, "there were certain conditions desired by Nance and his advisors that the Patriots felt they could not grant without giving up some of the prerogatives of management.

Elsewhere, Baltimore and Pittsburgh swapped gifted pass receivers, the Colts picking up All-NFL Roy Jefferson in exchange for Willie Richardson, a seven-year vet, plus a high 1970 draft choice.

"Jefferson is one of those scorchers," Colts General Manager Don Klosterman said of the sixth-year pro whose 67 catches last season set a Steeler record. "We are expecting great things out of his speed and ability to get open for pass recep-

This is a nice start, but the important thing is the finish. I usually get tangled up somewhere along the line in 72-hole tournaments such as this. The older you get, the more you run out of gas.

Sikes, winless in two years on the PGA tour, came within one stroke of Pleasant Valley's competitive course record. He stamped himself as a top threat for the $32,000 first prize.

However, he had plenty of contenders waiting for him to falter in the second round today. Just two strokes back were Billy Casper, Bobby Mitchell, John Schlee and local product Joe Carr. The four just missed in bids to overtake Sikes in the first round, each settling for 68.

Southgate Tourney Scramble

KANSAS CITY (AP)-A wide open scramble for the championship loomed today as more pros teed off in the Southgate Open Golf Tournament at suburban Leawood South Country

Defending champion Carol Mann was unable to play in the 54-hole event because of a pulled leg muscle suffered in the Buckeye Invitational last week.

Among top contenders to suc-ceed Miss Mann are Kathy Whitworth, this year's leading money winner with $22,615; Shirley Englehorn, Donna Caponi, Betsy Rawls, Judy Rankin and Sandra Haynie.

There are other leading names, including Sandra Spuzich, Jo Ann Prentice, Sandra Palmer, Lesley Holbert, Pam Barnett, Mary Mills and newcomers Jane Blalock, JoAnne Gunderson Carner and Carole Jo Skala.

Miss Blalock, rookie of the year last season after banking $3,904 in 20 tournaments, has won more than $10,000 this year and has a 74.84 stroke average in 62 rounds. She won the Lady Carling Open two weeks ago. Miss Carner was U.S. nation-

Candle Wax on Carpeting Creates Problem for Her

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—We have new green outdoor carpeting on our patio. A large candle was knocked off the coffee table while it was still warm after being lighted. This left an ugly tallow spot on the carpet. A blotter was put over it and then pressed with a warm iron but this only made it worse. Ice cubes do no good. Does anyone know a safe solution to this without injury to the carpet and its color?—LENA

DEAR POLLY—My letter is for Marilyn and all others who are driven to distraction by unsolicited items and junk mail that come through the mail. I solved the problem by marking "Refused, Return to Sender." Sometimes a company does not admit to having received the item from you and they send bills and threatening letters, even from atternative and collection agents. Ignore them, If you answer torneys and collection agents. Ignore them. If you answer as much as one, they know you are worried and will keep sending more.

I handled junk mail in an even simpler way. I had a rubber stamp made that says, "Not Interested. Stop Sending Me Junk Mail." Most companies took the hint at once and removed my name from their mailing lists. A few hard-heads were treated in the following manner: I took every bit of advertising they sent and stamped it with the above stamp. I then stuffed it into that postage-paid envelope they often send and mailed it back. For those that did not have such an envelope, I put all the advertising into a regular envelope without a stamp or my return address on it and just addressed it to them. When they have to pay postage on my clever little letter, they take me off the mailing list. Only one company refused to give up. I offered to bet the president of that company that my rubber stamp would hold out longer than his patience, so he gave up. It has been two years since I have received any junk mail other than that addressed to "Occupant" or "Resident." Try it. It works.—JACK

MIAMI (AP) - Tropical storm Dorothy churned across the western Caribbean today after pummeling the French island of Martinique with gales up to 70 miles per hour Thursday.

Forecasters said there was little chance the storm would intensify today as it continued its almost due-western path into the open water.

Miami hurricane forecaster Ray Kraft said Dorothy was moving near an area where tropical storms have difficulty building.

Small craft warnings remained in effect for the northern Windward Islands, the Leeward Islands, the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

Kraft declined to predict where the storm might strike as it moved across the water at 14 m.p.h., its gale-force winds extending outward up to 100 miles. First reports indicated that

Kremlin Stance on Peace Difficult To Discern

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent What's the Kremlin mood these days? Is peace about to break out?

The Russians show an interest in easing the danger in the Middle East. Moscow has signed a treaty with West Germany renouncing use of force. There are hints that Moscow is listening to American proposals at the strategic arms talks. In Europe, the Kremlin plumps for relaxation.

All this might suggest inclinations toward peaceableness. Yet there is something about Moscow's attitude which calls to mind the old Russian adage about approaching a friendly bear with extreme caution.

Temporarily, at least, Soviet leaders seem to want to turn their attention away from Europe, to mark time there. They are concerned about Red China more an irritation than a real

The Russians have a 24th Community Party Congress coming up next March-a year late—which could bring clashes on both economic and political fronts between entrenched party bureaucrats and the reformminded element, some of the latter even seeking a bit of democratization.

But internal strains are nothing new to Soviet leaders and have not seemed much of a deterrent to pursuit of foreign policy goals. One of these goals can be to nail down the status quo in Europe. Thus, why not cool things down, why not champion negotiations that could drag on endlessly? That could dampen a dangerous fuse without backing away, in essence, from support of all basic Arab claims against Israel.

It may not, then, be so remarkable that Moscow these days speaks softly and even encouragingly on several diplo-matic fronts. It has more to gain, long range, from caution than from a showdown in any danger area.

At the same time, there has been no signal whatever from Moscow that the Kremlin has pressed goal of world domination by a Soviet-run Communist

Court Trial Scheduled Behind Walls of Prison

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)

— Court will be held Monday for the first time behind the walls of 118-year-old San Quentin

"We're trying it out on an ex-perimental basis," Judge Jo-seph G. Wilson of Marin County Superior Court said. He will preside

The possibility of such court sessions for San Quentin prisoners was raised in the aftermath of the Aug. 7 San Rafael courtroom kidnap-shooting in which a judge and three of his abductors were killed. A San Quentin pris-

Say Kasabian In Seclusion In New England

MILFORD, N.H. (AP) - Linda Kasabian, the prosecution's chief witness in the Sharon Tate slayings in Los Angeles, was reported in seclusion today at her mother's home in this southern New Hampshire town.

Neighbors said they saw the 21-year-old mother of two drive away twice in the family car Thursday—once with her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Byrd, the second time with two brothers.

The Byrd home was almost dark Thursday night. Newsmen got no response when they knocked.

The neighbors said Mrs. Byrd told them she was willing to go to work to make it possible for her daughter to stay home and care for her two children, Tanya, 2, and Angel, 5 months.

The neighbors also said Mrs. Byrd told them that Police Chief Duane Rockwell visited the Byrd home and gave her two telephone numbers to be used if police help was needed.

Mrs. Kasabian testified for 18 days in the trial of Charles Manson and other defendants charged with murder in the deaths of actress Sharon Tate and six other persons.

Hearings Continue members might endanger colleagues by using drugs, "we don't at this moment view that what we are trying to do in Viet-the habit. Bartimo insisted there has been an exaggeration of the size of the problem of illegal drug use by servicemen. Reliable surveys do not substantiate "the estimated 50 per cent, 75 per cent or 80 per cent use sometimes quoted in the media," he added, but put it at a "ballpark figure of 30 per cent" mostly involving marijuana.

Hopeful Of Visit By Nixon

TOPEKA (AP) - Optimism that President Richard Nixon will deliver one of the Landon lectures at Kansas State University in early September was expressed Thursday by Atty. Gen. Kent Frizzell.

Frizzell and other Republicans extended the invitation to the President Wednesday on a visit to Washington.

The lectures are named for Alf M. Landon, 1936 GOP presidential nominee and former Kansas governor.

The President responded by saying it interested him and he was going to make every attempt to work it into his schedule," Frizzell said. "He indicated he wanted Kansas to be in his column as far as the governorship is concerned.'

The attorney general said he understood that Nixon will be at the western White House in California just before the pro-posed Sept. 8 date of the first Landon lecture and that if possible he would stop at Manhat-tan on his way back to Wash-

Claim Development Of Safe Pesticide

WASHINGTON (AP) - A team of Texas researchers said today it has developed chemicals which could increase the effectiveness of herbicides and insecticides while decreasing environmental pollution.

The chemicals, called 'water-degradable polymers," also could be used as a pharmaceutical aid or in the packaging industry, the researchers said.

M. L. Beasley and R. L. Collins, both of Austin Science Associates Inc., told of the development in a report to the technical journal "Science.

Polymers are compounds created by the union of two or more similar molecules. The new compound has the same elements as the original but possesses a higher molecular weight and has different physicial properties. The new polymers differ from those already discovered in that they break down in the presence of moisture.

The chemicals, when combined with conventional herbicides, produce a sticky resin which can be applied to plants. The addition of moisture causes the polymer to break down, releasing the herbicide. The researchers said conventional weed and insect killers pollute water supplies because rain and irrigation water washes away much of the chemical. Farmers thus must use ten one pound per acre. "No evidence for migration of herbicide was found," the researchers said.

Because the new chemicals break down slowly in the presence of moisture, they conceivably could be used with medicines that need to be slowly released within the body.

They also could be used in conjunction with conventional packaging materials, the researchers said.

The two scientists said "This wide class of water-degradable polymers offers great promise for the controlled release of herbicides, insecticides ... fungi-cides, rodenticides, defoliants and pharmaceuticals.

But they warned that "benign" polymeric formations would have to be found before they could be used with medi-

Elaborate Security Covers Shaky Past

WASHINGTON (AP) - The massive security measures sur-rounding a presidential journey ay make it seem easy to forget that one chief executive came under torpedo fire-from another U.S. vessel.

But there probably are some Navy men who will never forget & trip the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt took on the battleship Iowa during World War

The story is recalled in this month's issue of Naval Institute Proceedings by Cmdr. Charles F. Pick Jr., who was navigator on the Iowa.

With the President on the Iowa was the entire Joint Chiefs of Staff, steaming toward North Africa and the Tehran Conference with Joseph Stalin.

The Iowa was northeast of Bermuda, Nov. 14, 1943, a good day's run from the nearest known concentration of German

The President was in a wheelchair on the left side of the ship watching a gunnery drill with the joint chiefs. Suddenly, "Torpedo! Torpedo on the starboard am" roared from the ship's speaker system.

"I was petrified, completely immobile," Pick said. "The first sign of life came from the presidential party. One Secret service man yanked out his pistol, apparently hunting for the torpedo."
Roosevelt ordered his valet to wheel him to the right side of the ship, saying, "I want to watch the torpedo."

Pick, on the ship's bridge, said a dull explosion shook the ship. An officer next to him yelled "My God, he's hit us." He was wrong. The sensitive torpedo warhead had exploded harmlessly below the ship, set off by the turbulence caused when the Iowa took a sharp, evasive turn. As it turned out, the torpedo was fired by the escort destroyer William D. Porter, one of four destroyers in the area. They didn't know the President was aboard the Iowa

When the Iowa signaled it was beginning the gunnery drill, the destroyers decided to get in a torpedo drill, firing mock torpedos at the Iowa.

The Porter's torpedo officer had ordered three mock torpedoes but the third one wooshed out of its tube alive, ready to kill.

When everything settled down, Pick recalled, the destroyer was ordered back to its port under arrest.

This was believed the only time an entire ship had been placed under arrest. Pick said. wondering if the legality was Pick remembered the Navy's No. 1 man, Adm. Ernest J. King, standing on the bridge glaring at the Porter.

Nearby, Gen. Hap Arnold sidled up to Gen. George Marshall and said softly, "George, if you would like to see the sea give up its dead and the skies go black, watch Ernie."

Arnold approached King and asked, "Tell me, Ernie, does this happen often in your

Senate Votes Cut In Asian Finances

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate has voted on the eve of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's Asian tour to cut supplemental allowances for South Kôrean and Thailand troops fighting in Vietnam.

The action, which could be overturned in a Senate-House conference, came Tuesday despite a warning by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., that it could prompt the two countries to quit the war and slow U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

It could stir a strong reaction in South Korea and Thailand, whose leaders frequently have expressed concern about statements and actions of antiwar

Agnew leaves from California Saturday for the Asian visit. He will meet with leaders in South Korea, Thailand, South Vietnam and Taiwan.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, sponsored the amendment, which passed by voice vote after an endorsement from Sen. John Stennis. D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee.

It is aimed at a practice, spotlighted in recent Senate hearings, of giving allied troops larger supplemental allowances than American forces receive for combat. Their overall pay, however, remains far below the U.S. level.

Asian nations send troops to Vietnam. The Armed Services Committee said in its report accompanying the $19.2 billion military procurement bill that Pentagon funds should not be used to aid the Cambodian government. Fulbright's amendment puts that into the bill and extends it to Laos.

The Fulbright amendments were brought up after the Senate reached an impasse on an amendment to replace the draft with an all-volunteer force. Stennis has refused to agree to a voting time.

The Senate planned to turn to a series of other amendments to the military purchasing bill today-starting with a proposal by Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., to reduce rotation of military personnel around the globe by 25 per cent. He said it would save $140 million this year.

Meanwhile, the State Department disclosed agreement had been reached with the Cambodian government on terms of a U.S. military assistance program for that hard-pressed Indochinese nation.

But such details as the amount and source of the funds were withheld pending consultations between the State Department and the Foreign Relations Committee. A $50 million figure has been mentioned.

Earlier in the year, the Nixon administration sent $8.9 million in aid to Cambodia from excess military assistance funds.

Delon Gives Up Trade For Fame On the Screen

NEW YORK (AP) - Any woman in the world would be happy to buy pork chops from a tcher as handsome as Alain Delon-no matter how heavy a thumb he put on the scales. But the actor, who once whacked up hams in his stepfather's pork shop in a Paris suburb, is now cutting a wider swath as an international matinee idol.

At 34, tall, dark, blue-eyed and handsome, Delon is strikingly reminiscent of the late Tyrone Power. In the latest of his 20 or more films, "Borsalino," which he also produced, he is co-starred with Jean-Paul Beldo. They play a couple of small-time rogues who wind up dominating the Marseilles un-

Explosives Cargo Blasts in Ocean

WASHINGTON (AP) - An explosion was felt aboard escort vessels three minutes after a ship with 5,000 tons of bombs and ammunition was scuttled 118 miles off the Maryland coast, the Navy says.

There was no damage to the vessels, which were about five miles from the sinking Liberty ship Davis Hughes.

The ship went under at shortly after noon Thursday after taking water through open seacocks for five hours. No further details were announced.

The Hughes was similar to the ship used Tuesday to dump nerve gas and rockets off Florida. The sinking was the 20th of the Operation Chase program to dump obsolete munitions and warfare gases into the sea.

Only about one-eighth of an iceberg is visible above the water, the remaining seveneighths lies below the surface of the ocean.

Ex-Convict Wins In Cleaning Business

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) -Until he spent three years in San Quentin, Fred Arnold was an ex-Marine adrift.

A serious young man with a family and some college educa-tion, he worked as a postal clerk in San Diego, then went home to St. Louis as a data clerk for the Army. He tried his hand at real estate.

The change in his fortune came with a conviction for drug possession and a $3,000 store robbery that sent him to prison.

"That did it," he says. "When I got out, I was ready to do it

Released last Jan. 22 with $29.45 in his pocket, Arnold, 30, took his idea for a special kind of home-cleaning service to friends for backing.

His plan: Make certain the work is satisfactory. If not, do it

A buddy in the Marines, Henry Jackson, president of a San Diego finance firm, lent him $1,300. With his wife Zella and their 11-year-old son Fred, Arnold went door to door. As housewives bought his service, he began to advertise, with the help of a friend on the San Diego State College faculty.

From a corner of a rented office with a single desk and a single girl working part time, Maid-For-A-Day expanded by summer to 40 employes and Ar-nold says $130,000 income monthly.

In training classes, he tells his staff to ask a housewife if she wants the cleaning started in a special place or done a special

Arnold calls the housewife back later, asks if the cleaning was good and if she will tell her neighbor. Dissatisfaction brings an instant repeat.

The Better Business Bureau made Arnold a member four months sooner than usual. The firm moved into new large quarters this month, and Jackson talked directors of his Brokers Financial Corp. into making Arnold's office into a wholly owned subsidiary with potential backing for major growth.

Medicaid Cutback May Load Hospitals

ST. LOUIS (AP)-Twelve per cent reductions recently in Missouri Medicaid nursing home payments are likely to swell patient numbers at state hospitals, the director of mental health division nursing home placements warned Thursday.

Edward L. Davis, noting also the tightening of federal require-ments for Medicaid nursing care, said the reductions will probably mean the return of 500 patients to the St. Louis State Hospital from nursing homes.

In the past, he added, elderly patients had been placed in nursing homes following abbreviated stays in state hospitals.

Bobby Gentry, Ray Charles Lures

Bobbie Gentry, television star and recording artist, will headline the first free Grandstand show at the State Fair to be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Ray Charles will be featured at the second show.

Miss Gentry's recording of "Ode To Billy Joe," for which she wrote the words and music, started her on the way to a string of hit records. "Ode" sold more than 5 million copies and made recording history by reaching the top of the bestseller list just four weeks after

Since then Bobbie has recorded such hits as "Fancy," for which she also wrote the lyrics and music; "I'll Never Fall In Love Again," and "All I Have To Do Is Dream," recorded with Glen Campbell. The Mississippi-born beauty has also starred in her own television specials in this country and in England. She has also made numerous appearances on national television shows such as The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour, The Carol Burnett Show, Kraft Music Hall, The Tom Jones Show and others.

The musical genius of Ray Charles will be the featured attraction at the free Grandstand show at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Home Tips At Fair Workshops

The techniques of flower arranging, the newest in home furnishings and party and shower ideas are only a few of the subjects to be illustrated in the Homemakers' Workshop demonstration at the State Fair. Demonstrations will be held daily at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. in the Home Economics Building on the Fairgrounds.

Superintendent Mrs. Josh Carney, Calhoun, has extended an invitation to all Missouri homemakers to attend the eightday program of free demonstrations. The schedule:

Saturday, "Bridal Headpieces," by Mrs. Ethel Shreeves of Kansas City; Sunday, "Party and Shower Ideas," by Mrs. Lorine Hopheins, owner of Lorene's Gift Shop, Sedalia; Monday, "The Techniques of Flower Arranging," by Mrs. Phillip Pfeiffer, owner of Pfeiffer's Pfeiffer, owner of Pfeiffer's Flower Shop, Sedalia; Tuesday, "Techniques of Sewing," by Miss Karen Starkey, fashion consultant for the Armo Company, St. Louis; Wednesday, "What's New in Home Furnishings," by Mrs. Donetta Whittaker, economist from Polk County; Thursday, "Back to School Wardrobe," presented by Mrs. Elaine Lockett, owner of Lockett's Ladies Shop, with footwear furnished by Blade's Shoe Shack, both of Sedalia; Aug. 28, "Designing and Creating Undercover Fashions," by Mrs. Joyce Taylor, Fayette, and Aug. 29, "How to Make Early American Spice Plagues" by Mrs. Morio Spice Plaques," by Mrs. Maria Dabner, Sedalia.

PEMBROKE, N.C. (AP) -Some Lumbee Indians in Robe son County would like to see the southeastern North Carolina county's school desegregation plan abolished. They say it will rob them of their traditionally Indian schools.

Lou Barton, a Lumbee who is a free lance writer, said some Lumbees fear their children will lose their identity as Indianswhich we have clung to so tenaciously"-if they are sent to mixed schools outside their neighborhoods.

Peace Corps To Have Tent

The Peace Corps will be at the State Fair, according to the regional office in Chicago. John McCormack, a former volunteer from Miscronesia; Ronni Allexenberg, a former volunteer from Turkey, and Brooks Herndon, recently returning from Bolivia as a volunteer, will man the Peace Corps tent.

The Peace Corps is seeking experienced farmers, and their wives, single male experienced farmers and agriculturists with degrees. Skilled workers, specifically mechanics with experience in diesels, tractors machinery maintenance, and having farm backgrounds, all building tradesmen, and experienced teachers also are needed. Persons interested in the

Grand Ole Opry Favorites Scheduled

Two all-time Grand Ole Opry favorites will headline the first of two-star-studded free country music shows at the State Fair.

Ray Price, the "Soul of Country Music," and Wanda Jackson, internationally famous recording artist and song writer, will be featured at the free Grandstand show at 8 p.m.

Price, one of country music's all-time greats, has been a top attraction for nearly 20 years. His recordings have consistently topped the charges in national record polls. Among recent hits is "Danny Boy," a traditional folk song that has never worn the country music label. Over the years, Price has become known as the Soul of Country Music for his compassionate renditions of sad love songs. The Cherokee Cowboys will appear with Price.

way of life for Wanda Jackson almost since she received her first guitar as a birthday present at the age of six. Firmly lodged as a favorite country music artist in this country, the magic of Wanda Jackson as a versatile artist has spread to Europe where she is regarded as the female Elvis Presley. She has a long string of hit records to her credit, both as a singer and composer, including, "Santo Domingo," "In the Middle of a Heartache," "There's a Party Goin' On," "Stupid Cupid," and many others.

Included in the array of 'name' stars for the first State Fair "Opry" spectacular are: Justin Tubb, son of one of country music's greatest stars, Ernest Tubb, and a talented singer and composer in his own right; ventriloquist Grover Ruwe and his pals Louie and Sunshine; the Stoney Mountain Cloggers, America's greatest square dancers; and Gary Van and the Western Caravan.

The State Fair's second free country music show will be

Aug. 30. The reigning queen of country music, Tammy Wynette, and George Jones, three times chosen as America's number-one male country singer, will top the list of stars for the free country music spectacular. Show time is 8 p.m.

For the past two years, Tammy Wynette has won the top honor as America's numberone girl singer. Since her hit recording, "Apartment No. 9," the long-haired beauty from Alabama has chalked up many record hits. These include, "Your Good Girl's Gonna Go Bad," "I Don't Wanna Play House," "Singing My Song," and many others. In addition to her performing abilities, she is

Sally Rand Makes Comeback To Fair

Sally Rand

Not many women can claim a football play named after them. And a petite 113-pound figure at age 66. But famed fan dancer Sally Rand can . . . and does.

Sally Rand, Missouri Ozarks farm girl who soared to fame in Chicago's 1933 World's Fair, will be the guest speaker at the State Fair's Country Cured Ham Breakfast on Wednesday, at the Smith-Cotton High School

This is one of many return visits to the Fair for Miss Rand.

Her first appearance was in 1951 when the first Ham Breakfast was held in her tent. "I am so pleased to be returning to my home state and I am looking forward to appearing at the Ham Breakfast," said Miss Rand.

Miss Rand began her remarkable career at age 13 when she left her Ozarks home to make her stage debut in the chorus line of Kansas City's Empress Theater. But it was not until 1932 in a Chicago nightclub that the name Sally Rand rose to fame.

Sally bought her first set of fans one afternoon before her show just because they were so beautiful and she intended to use them that night to produce an illusory appearance over a short gown. But when the stage manager called, "Sally, you're on" her gown was anything but ready. With jobs so scarce there was no time to falter so out she went and proved for the first of many times that "The Rand is quicker than the eye.'

Since then her career has blossomed to international heights with movie-making.

Fairgoers will feel assured of many years of good eating after visiting the hundreds of free exhibits sponsored by the Future Farmers of America on display at the State Fair display at the State Fair.

FFA members from all over the state will be entering their best livestock and crop entries in competition for $19,201 in prize money being offered in seven categories including beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, swine, farm mechanics and field crops.

In addition to the agricultural exhibits, FFA members will again operate the Children's Barnyard with its assortment of domestic animals. A popular attraction again this year will be the continuous hatching of eggs in a glass incubator. Petting the lambs, watching the chickens ride a miniature ferris wheel and seeing cows being milked are just a few favorites enjoyed by younger fairgoers.

Last year FFA members exhibited 1,374 head of livestock, 151 field crop exhibits and 250 pieces of farm equipment constructed in vocational agricultural shops in the public schools.

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of boys between the ages of 14 and 21 who are studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools. There are over 12,000 members in Missouri.

FFA members will once again serve as ushers for the grandstand events.

Dick Mann, Richmond, Calif., who'll be racing at the Missouri State Fair, won top honors in the 30 lap TT National held at Castle Rock, Wash., recently.
More importantly, though,
Mann earned enough points to regain the lead in the 1970 point From the drop of the flag,

Mann's work was cut out for him. Don Castro, on a Triumph, dove into the first turn followed by Mark Brelsford, Gene Romero, Mert Lawwill, Mann and Dave Aldana. After several laps, Aldana, BSA, and Mann. also BSA, began to thread their way through the tightly bunched pack. Aldana was the first to take the lead away from Castro. Then, Mann slipped by Castro and tucked in behind Aldana. Mann and Aldana put on a fierce battle for the lead, exchanging positions frequently. Around the 20th lap, Aldana's machine slipped out from under him and he was out of the competition.

The action further back in the pack was just as fierce. Castro, Brelsford, Romero, Lawwill and Williams raced desperately for second place and it was nearly a dead heat for that Mann's time, 13:02.64, is a new record for the Castle Rock course. Heat races were won by Mark Breisford, H-D; Mert Lawwill, H-D; and Dave Aldana, BSA.

The Amateur win went to Triumph-mounted Chuck Joyner of Oregon City, Ore. From start to finish, Joyner dueled with Jim Cotton, a Triumph rider from Milwaukie. Ore., who finished second. Joyner's time was 4:21.20.

A visit to the Missouri Conservation Department's exhibit at the State Fair will be an ideal stop for family fairgoers. Seeing the many fish and animals native to Missouri can be entertaining as well as educational.

Bob Smith, Missouri state trapper, will be on hand daily to answer questions about predators and will give demonstrations on how to set traps for predator control. And, as in the past, visitors will have an opportunity to see a variety of animals including raccoons; foxes, coyotes, squirrels, deer, wolves, weasels, owls, hawks, opossum and ground hogs.

The department has redesigned much of its exhibition area. Remodeling included building a permanent fisheries exhibit, redesigning the snake exhibit, building a new casting pool for the bait casting tournament and relandscaping the grounds.

Chuck Palmgren Is Back For Another AMA Race

Chuck Palmgren, 25-year-old professional motorcycle racer from Freehold, N.J., won two championship events last season. Both were on the mile length dirt ovals at Santa Rosa and Sacramento, Calif.

Chuck was third in last year's race here and will compete again this year.

The Santa Rosa 20 mile championship race was the first win in the nationals for the 25year-old Palmgren who has been a professional racer for 5 years.

Chuck's teammate and tutor. Gary Nixon, crashed and broke a leg during the Santa Rosa race. Nixon, who was AMA's Grand National Champion at the time of his accident, said he believes Chuck Palmgren can win the title - Gary has said, "he will win it during the 1970 racing season." Both racers ride

The title of Grand National Champion seems destined to go into the record books along side one of the Palmgren boys. Brothers, Larry and Dennis are licensed AMA racers as well. Chuck is ranked 5th in the nation, Larry is 9th, while younger brother Dennis has just advanced from Novice to Amateur classification.

Chuck qualified and placed in the points in 19 out of the 25 nationals last year. In addition to the two victories, he marked a string of 2nds, 3rds, and 4ths to his credit. He ran second to his brother Larry at the Reading, Pa., 10 mile event. He ran 3rd in the Columbus, Ohio 10 mile and the Sedalia, Mo., 15 mile event.

Sedalia's Race Only One of 5,000 Yearly

The American Motorcycle Association sanctions nearly 5,000 motorcycle races each year in these two categories: Professional purse prying events (approx. 400 events per year) and non-professional trophy events called "Sportsman" races. The Sportsman races can only be sponsored by AMA chartered clubs, whereas professional racing is sponsored by both professional promot-

The AMA's top two pointgetters will be at this year's fair. Fifty thousand (50,000) riders is a conservative estimate of the total number who will compete in sportsman events throughout the year. Most of the 2,000 AMA chartered clubs across the country will sponsor one or more events during the season. This means each state offers ample opportunity for their young racers to develop the skills needed to go on into the Professional ranks.

AMA has a membership of over 100,000 motorcycle enthusiasts. Twenty-five hundred (2,500) of this total hold professional competition licenses. The professionals are divided into three classifications. The beginner or Novice rider must ride in this class for no less than one year. During this time he will attempt to accumulate 40 points given on the basis of his performance, so that he can be advanced into the Amateur classification. The Amateur motorcycle racer is the counterpart to the "Rookie" race car driver. The top classification is known as Expert, and is achieved when the Amateur has earned 80 points. The Novice racers are restricted to competition within this classification. The Experts and Amateurs are allowed to compete against one another in certain races, however, only the Expert is eligible to enter the

'Skinning the Dude' a Big Racket

WASHINGTON — Cheating the motorist — a form of transaction known among service station harpies as "skinning the dude" — has grown into a multi-million-dollar racket.

This column has gathered evidence that some of the nation's biggest service station chains use this modern method to push tires, batteries and accessories upon unwary motorists.

At many stations, the gas pumps are manned by igh - pressure salesmen skilled at alarming customers into buying replacements they don't men can turn a fast buck with fuel pump or shock absorber to simulate a leak. Other tool men - also called "slashers," "honkers" and "hashers" - specialize in puncturing tires. An expert can thrust a sharply filed screwdriver between the threads of a tire, completely undetected, while the driver watches him take the air pressure. The big oil companies pretend to be unaware of what is going on in the service stations that bear their brand names. But company officials know that many a station is selling far more side products than the traffic warrants.

-Secret Tool Men-

Sometimes the companies send in salesmen to help stimulate the sales. More often than not, they are secret tool men who, like spies, expect to be disowned if they are caught sabotaging a customer's car.

Usually a tool man will split his take with the station operator. At a station in a small Utah town, for example, a tool man promised the operator to sell enough extra tires and accessories to earn them each $8,000 to $10,000 a month. A tape of their conversation has been made available to this Column.

The auto-repair gyps quickly size up each motorist as he pulls up to the gas pumps. If he is driving an out-of-state car and seems unfamiliar with auto mechanics, they spot him for a "dude" or "pigeon" or "mallard" as they call a sucker.

An experienced gyp artist prefers to deal with a man who, after he realizes he has been taken, is less likely than a woman to complain. His male ego usually keeps him from advertising his stupidity.

The gyp artist would also rather pick on an Easterner, because auto sabotage is more prevalent in the West and a Westerner, therefore, is more likely to be wise to the racket,

The tool man's first objective is to get the car on the rack. He may puncture the tire and point out that it is low. Or he may hang a wire that will cause the distributor to throw off sparks, or slip detergent into the battery water to make it foam, or squeeze a drop of mercury from an eye-dropper to produce smoke. -Freeway Runners-

Some service stations use "freeway runners" who drive along the approaches to the station exit. pull up alongside a likely pigeon and shout a neighborly warning that his back wheel is wobbling. The grateful driver usually will turn off at the next exit and pull into the intended service

Once the tool man gets a car on the rack, he will pluck the pigeon for all he can get without arousing picion. Tires, batteries and shock absorbers are

The gyp artist will point to the wear indicator which shows across the tread pattern of most tires or to the tendency of wide tires to pinch the treads toward the middle - neither cause for alarm - as evidence that the tire is about to blow out.

He may blame this upon the shock absorbers and cite the oil he has squirted on the shocks as an added ominous sign. Then he will try to sell the pigeon both tires and shock absorbers. He will also quote prices that are too high. For he splits the overcharge, or "O.C.," with the operator.

As an added touch of larceny, the auto racketeer may merely wipe the old part clean and sell it back to the original owner. Or he may peddle it as a replacement to the next pigeon who comes along.

Footnote: Probably the best way to deter an autorepair gyp is to take his name and address when he tries to sell you a new tire or accessory. You would also be safer to head for the nearest franchised dealer when the smiling service station attendant suggests you need a new tire, battery, fuel pump, alternator or pair of shock absorbers.

People of the Bamoon country in the French Cameroons had several forms of 'bride price" but their cherished tribal unit of measure was the brass frog, a lifesized model of the common frog but one sufficiently difficult to counterfeit.

Usually no more than two members of the tribe or village were charged with the production of these pieces, one because of his artistic ability and the other to make sure all of the pieces "minted" were accounted

Unlike the oriental method of using parting molds that could turn out several pieces of money time after time from one mold, the Africans used one model for each brass frog produced, a timeconsuming process.

To coin a brass frog the artisan sculptured a pattern in beeswax, and when it was an exact replica, it was carefully packed in moist clay.

The clay pod or closed mold was placed on a bed of reeds to dry and when the moisture was all but gone the tribal coiners affixed a forked stick to each in a manner that would allow the clay to dry around the fork. This made it easy to turn the pods so moisture could be removed through a natural process.

When all pods were thoroughly dried, each was held over a bed of hot coals to melt the beeswax which escaped through a small hole just under the frog's belly. The remaining cavity held an impression of the frog once removed from the original.

After all pods were systematically drained, they were turned on their backs to expose the drain hole and filled with molten brass.

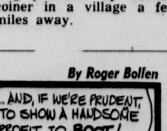

This required another per-iod of cooling after which the pods were broken away to reveal a perfect piece of brass frog money. Flashing and rough appendages were carefully removed, the frog washed and polished and the tribe had an additional piece of valuable currency.

Travelers through the Cameroons who have seen this particular form of native currency say there is less than a grain's difference between a frog produced by one man in one village and a frog produced by another coiner in a village a few miles away.

We have an ironclad rule against preempting in first or second seat when we hold two aces. We are too likely to wind up missing a slam. On the other hand, there have been many occasions when we open such hands with one, only to wind up wishing we had preempted.

Opening lead-♦ J

It doesn't make much difference what South opens today. He is going to wind up at four hearts. Not that three no-trump by North wouldn't be a better final contract. The only way to beat him is a spade lead by East and a diamond return and that defense is most unlikely.

Anyway, South did pre-empt and West opened the jack of diamonds. The defense took two diamond tricks and led a third one, which South ruffed. South drew trumps with two leads, laid down his ace of clubs and started to run some more trumps

This ace of clubs play was a surprise to West. Here was South opening four hearts with a solid suit and a side ace. Why was he going out of his way to show that ace so early in the play? Perhaps he was crazy or, more likely, the ace was a single-

West decided to make that assumption, so he proceeded to throw his three remaining clubs as quickly as possible. Then, when South got around to leading a spade, West was ready with a low one. South could have made an overtrick by going up with the king but he chose to play the jack and was set one trick.

We don't think much of South's ace of clubs play. We feel certain that, if he had held back that ace and led a spade early, West would have gone up with the ace on the theory that his partner would be sitting with the ace

Sending a child off to college today presents certain difficulties. Our parents sent us off with an extra $50, advice about brusshing our teeth regularly, a few tips about tomato juice preventing scurvy, and some advice on studying daily so we wouldn't be tempted to take bennies at exam time.

The majority of our next generation will be leaving for college classrooms. Most of these students have already formed their view of our generation. True, we don't like it when they say we've made a fetish of the computer and we don't particularly care for their saying things such as, "research on rats is irrelevant." They're likely to roll hysterically across the living room floor when we warn them about smoking pot. But, one has to admit they all have good teeth.

Warning your child not to get involved in any building-burning just might bring a reply about activism enriching education. If this happens, you might point out (meekly, of course) that activism will never replace education. Frankly, if you're involved in this kind of conversation with a child you may as well retreat, either say, "O.K., stay at home. Maybe you can keep your carry-out job at the grocery," or, just hand him an extra $150 and say, "Call me when you need bail."

Terrible mistakes you won't want to make are: Suggesting Susie go shopping with you because you saw this darling tweed suit - just right for wearing to football games.

Saying to her, however kindly, "We know you want to make an intellectual effort but don't sign up for too many hours. Mommy and daddy want you to go to dances and things." Saying, "Mother knows you won't have anything to do with Those Hippies.' Saying, "We'll get you into aunt Ethel's sorority.

She hasn't been giving money to the alumni association all these years for nothing. Asking your son, however timidly, "Now, honey, you aren't going to start reading underground newspapers or anything, are you?" Asking, "Is the curfew 11 o'clock at Old Ivy

Asking, "Are these jeans and this purple tunic ALL you're packing?"

Explaining, "If you don't make it, dad can always use you at his place. So maybe he can't read poems in Greek. Just remember, his business kept food in front of you, not to mention a membership in the country club.'

Douching Neither Causes Nor Prevents Cancer

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q — I have heard that douching after intercourse may push the sperms up to meet the ovum. Is this true? How soon after intercourse is it advisable to use a douche?

A - If douching with a spermicidal solution does push any sperms into the uterine cervix, which is doubtful, they would be dead sperms. To be effective, however, the douching should be done immediately after intercourse.

Q — Can daily douching cause cancer?

A - Routine vaginal douching as a means of feminine hygiene makes no more sense than using a daily enema, daily eye wash, daily nasal douche and daily mouthwash. Nature unaided does an excellent job of keeping these parts adequately clean except in the presence of specific disease. Douching will neither cause nor prevent cancer.

Q - Is it possible with frequent douching to wash away all the ova in the ovaries?  $\mathbf{A} - \mathbf{No}$ . Douching washes the vagina but not the uterus or tubes and certainly not the ovaries. Besides, the ova are discharged from the ovary only when they are ripe. Q - My doctor says I should have my Bartholin

either side of the vagina. When they become infected or cystic, it may be necessary to remove them. This is a relatively minor operation.

A - The two Bartholin glands are situated on

Q - Where is the rectal seal located? How does it work? A - A rectocele is a protrusion of the rectum through the wall of the vagina. When it is small, it causes no symptoms. But, if it is large, the victim can empty her bowel only by pushing the rectocele back in place. It can be repaired by an operation.

-Q — I have had a dropped bladder or cystocele for six years and it is getting bigger. Will it turn into a cancer? Is surgery the only treatment? A — A cystocele or protrusion of the bladder into the vagina is not likely to become cancerous. Surgery is the only satisfactory treatment.

Here's New Lineup for TV Season

By JOAN CROSBY NEA Television Editor

HOLLYWOOD-(NEA)-Judy Pace is an extraordinarily pretty girl who has a good role in "Cotton Comes to Harlem," which is making money across the country, and a lead in "Up in the Cellar," due for release soon. She is also, with Zalman King, starring in ABC-TV's The Young Lawyers.

Like Zalman, whose star-ring movie, "The Ski Bum," will be released around the time the series debuts, she is destined to be a big star.

Ten years ago, neither one of them would have had a chance. She's black and he is not handsome. But today they are costarring with Lee J. Cobb and they can look forward to bright futures.

"Sometimes it frightens me," Judy says, talking of the future that, if it brings stardom, will also bring invasions of privacy, gossip and instant recognition.
"But then, it's the only way to go into this business, broking it was the start of knowing it can happen. I set a timetable for myself. I'm right on schedule. Last year at this time I said, 'Yeah, I'll be costarring in my own series next year.'" series next year.

Even though her series hasn't been on the air, Sheila Larken says she is beginning to notice differences.

An introspective girl who is Hungarian and Polish despite her Irish looks and name, Sheila is planning a trip home to New York to see her parents.

"I'm very private," she says, "almost to the point of being a hermit. Now if I had five kids and lived in Pough-keepsie and I was going home to visit my folks, their friends would say 'How's your daughter?' and that would be it. Now they're all saying, 'Bring your daughter over.' I don't want to offend anyone, and I can't say, 'You wouldn't be interested in me if I weren't on TV,' but that's Sheila's costar, Robert Foxworth, takes the opposite view of becoming public property.

"I have a deep suspicion it's something I've wanted all my life. Once, when I was at the Arena Theater in Washington, after a student matinee, a girl asked me why I was an actor. It was a question I had never posed myself and I had no answer. Then a week later, I got a letter from a guy who asked me the same question for a thesis he was doing. I went through all the things you usually hear: the need to illuminate great words, the need to communicate. But when I got right down to reality, it turned out to be a thing I had mosted eines. thing I had wanted since I was a child. I wanted to be a rich and a famous movie star."

Hal Frederick, who costarred in the British film, "Two Gentlemen Sharing," and is in CBS-TV's The Interns, admits strange things happen when one becomes an actor:

"The other day, on the set of The Interns, the executive producer said to one of my costars, 'I want to talk to you.' My curiosity was piqued and I had to hold myself back to keep from prying. I was so amazed at my curiosity. I'd never experienced anything like that before.'

John Fink, tall and hand-some costar on NBC-TV's Nancy, says being an actor nearly ruined his marriage before the honeymoon was over:

"We had gone to Greece on our honeymoon. I was just at that stage where I was afraid to be away too long and miss out on some jobs. So I said that I thought I ought to go back early and get a job. My wife urged me to stay. I said, 'No, I've got to go back.' We did and I got absolutely nothing.''

Philippe Forquet, a handsome Frenchman who is playing Lafayette on ABC-TV's The Young Rebels, puts his finger right on the heart of the matter. He says, "I want to be as big a star as possible. One must start out trying to be the biggest and best. It's a marvelous business when one is on top, but it's godawful when you're the underdog."

HOLLYWOOD - (NEA)-Here they are, coming up to the starting gate of the 1970-1971 television season:

Rick Ely, of ABC-TV's The Young Rebels, assured, re-laxed and a good bet for stardom

Alex Henteloff, of the same show, chubby, pedantic, saying "I was discovered by Screen Gems twice, once many years ago when they decided to reject me, and again for this series.

Tracy Reed, beautiful and kooky, who spent last season in the blackouts on Love, American Style and is now the star of ABC-TV's Barefoot in the Park.

Susan Dey, of the same lot to learn about the business but never doubting for a moment that she'll learn and become a star.

Rudy Ramos, joining The High Chaparral, born to a Cherokee-French mother and Mexican-American father. He was, at the age of 17, a shoe salesman in Los Angeles. A producer's secretary, attracted by his good looks, suggested he contact her if he ever decided to be an actor. He did.

Mitch Vogel, just 14, and going into Bonanza, saying he would like to continue acting, "but I'm going to major in science in college so if acting doesn't work, I'll have something to fall back on."

Roger Bowen, who plays the boss on CBS-TV's Arnie, insisting that he thinks of himself as a writer.

Storefront Lawyers, a graduate of The Session, an improvisational theater which had so many sons of famous people in it (Carl Reiner's son, Joey Bishop's son) that people automatically assumed he is Alan Arkin's son. He's not.

Ted Knight, also on Mary's CBS-TV s how, who has

Lynda Day, a lively blonde who has always played the victim in TV guest appear-ances ("I was kidnaped three different times on The FBI"), now a regular on ABC-TV's The Silent Force.

Claudette Nevins, who possibly has the best acting credentials of all the newcomers, was chosen to play Andy Griffith's wife in CBS-TV's Headmaster after nearly every actress in Holly-wood was auditioned.

Young Lawyers' Judy Pace, already on her way to movie stardom and called "the most beautiful Negro in Hollywood."

Zalman King, who stars in "The Ski Bum" in a role originally mentioned for Peter O'Toole. "We're just alike," says Zal, short, dark, hooknosed. The movie and his series, The Young Lawyers, could combine to make him

Robert Foxworth, blueeyed, blond and another of the season's best bets for superstardom, and a Storefront Lawyer.

Sheila Larken, Foxworth's costar, y o u n g, frightened, strangely delicate but with a fighting spirit and sure-footed walk.

Hilarie Thompson, of The Young Rebels, who says of stardom "the end result is not as satisfying as to get there."

Lou Gossett, also a Rebel, who wants success but says 'survival in this business is to take it as it comes.

Philippe Fourquet, the French Rebel, who doesn't like to be tied down to any place too long. If he doesn't make it as a star, he says he can go back to Paris.

And all those young people in CBS-TV's The Interns:

Stephen Brooks, who played an intern on the old rem Zimbalist's assistant when The FBI was a new Sandra Smith, a soap opera veteran who does needlepoint between scenes.

Mike Farrell, also a soap opera veteran, so popular that an associate director of Days of Our Lives says, don't know how we're going to replace him."

Elaine Giftos, tall, bubbly and a veteran of Broadway musicals.

Hal Frederick, who is so unused to being recognized, he looks behind him if he sees someone staring in his direction.

Chris Stone, blond and handsome, who says he's not looking for instant stardom. "He'll wait until Saturday. says one of his costars.

There they are. Now it's up to you.

THINK ABOUT HEALTH

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC? "Chiropractic" is derived from wo Greek words which together mean "done by hand".

What is done by hand? A doctor of Chiropractic uses his hands to adjust misplaced spinal bones (vertebrae) so they will return to their normal position. When a vertebra gets out of line, it may pinch, block or stretch important nerves carried within the spine or just outside it.

What happens if a bone in the spine is misplaced and blocks a nerve? The organ or organs supplied by the blocked nerve will lose efficiency and eventually will become diseased and open to infection.

What happens when the chiropracter restores the spinal bone to its normal place? The nerve is free again to transmit the power supply from the brain to the affected organ, and the disease condition will clear up in the great majority Chiropracters are trained to find and correct misplaced vertebrae. Their work helps nature step in and heal the ailment caused by improper function of the nervous system.

"I had been out here last year, to do a Mod Squad, and stayed with my old friend Clarence Williams, who was a regular on that show. I saw that he was doing much better than me. He was better known. He

Warns Cattle Raisers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Food and Drug Administration official has warned the cattle industry that use of the hormone DES will be banned if residues of the cancer-inciting agent continue to slip into America's beef supply.

Residues of DES have been detected by government inspectors during each of the last five years—although federal law says no residues will be tolerated in meat reaching consumers.

The hormone, which has caused cancer in laboratory animals, is legally fed to cattle to stimulate weight gains. Dr. C. D. Van Houweling, director of the FDA's Bureau of Veterinary Medicine, recently told the Association of American Feed Control Officials that although the hormone is beneficial to growers, the government cannot tolerate any residues.

"If residues persist because feeders are not following the specified restrictions and withdrawal period, there will be no alternative left but to withdraw approval of its use," Van Houweling said.

In June, The Associated Press reported that government in-(See CATTLE, Page 4)

New Bill Will Set Deadlines

WASHINGTON (AP)— A bill to set enforcement deadlines for protection against air pollution was unveiled Thursday by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine.

The legislation calls for the production of nonpolluting automobiles by 1975, five years ear-lier than Nixon administration proposals

It would establish national air quality and emission standards geared to a level needed to protect the public health and set a them

And it would authorize the setting of goals for even tougher air quality standards "necessary to protect public health and welfare from any known or anticipated effects. States would be given the first opportunity to implement the newly set standards. If their deadline is not met or the state plan is deemed inadequate, the federal government would step

Hospital Revises

In an attempt to reduce the numbers of visitors at Bothwell Hospital, the hospital will stop publishing a list of admissions, effective today.

That was the word Thursday from Don Feeback, hospital administrator, who said the policy would apply to "routine medical" cases only, and not

All of the changes have been adopted on a 60-day trial basis.

Disclose Autopsy Results

Police disclosed late Wednesday the full results of the autopsy performed on Mrs. Barbara Jean Galliher, the Sedalia housewife murdered at her home last Saturday, and reported it merely substantiated what is already known about the circumstances surrounding the woman's death.

The autopsy report did place the time of death at about 3 p.m. Police had been uncertain as to the exact time, but believed it was sometime between 2:30 and 6:30 p.m.

Police Chief William Miller said additional evidence and fingerprints were sent to the State Highway Patrol laboratory in Jefferson City on Thursday. He added that a couple of possible new leads are being checked out, but declined to say what they were.

The autopsy report confirmed that Mrs. Galliher had not been sexually molested. County coroner Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher had earlier testified at an inquest that he found no evidence of sexual molestation.

The last person to see Mrs. Galliher alive was a waitress at the Dog N Suds, who served her lunch about 2 p.m. Saturday.

At 6:20 p.m. the woman was found by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Helen Galliher, 2416 North Woodlawn, dead from strangu-

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) -Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy conceded Thursday that the federal budget this year will show a deficit larger than the $1.3-billion official estimate.

"I want to point out that we cannot afford to relax prematurely our basic economic policies," he said. Although he did not rule out all budget deficits. he cautioned: "We cannot permit the budget again to become so imbalanced as to rekindle the inflationary pressures that have only recently died down."

Kennedy's remarks were in a speech prepared for the combined civic clubs of Salt Lake City. Kennedy, a Mormon, was reared and educated in the heavily Morman state of Utah.

Despite his optimism, Kennedy said progress in slowing

In addition, he said, the government's tight rein on its budget "has shown up not only in our inability to take up projects that we would like to pursue, but more clearly in the form of higher unemployment than we as a nation should tolerate for Nevertheless, Kennedy said "I believe that in the next few months we will begin to see a tapering-off in inflation that all of us have been looking for.

The administration's last budget estimate, on May 19, said spending for the fiscal ending next June would increase faster than income, resulting in a deficit of $1.3 billion instead of a surplus of the same size as predicted three months before.

Congressional analysts have said for some time that the deficit would be larger, but administration budget watchers reportedly reached the same conclusion only recently.

Tour Shows Parkhurst's Impact

By DOUG KNEIBERT Managing Editor

The magnitude and diversity of Parkhurst Manufacturing Co. were graphically illustrated to newsmen and other Sedalians during a tour Wednesday of the company's greatly expanded facilities here.

Visited were the three Parkhurst plants, as well as the new research and development complex on Industrial Drive. The tours were led by Ken-Gunderson, production superintendent, and Rex Rudy, marketing director.

A reception at the Tiki House followed the tour, after which the group went to Maxine's Gourmet House on Industrial Drive for dinner.

The tour saw assembly line production of Parkhurst's farm bodies (10 per day), van bodies for EZ Haul trucks (50 per-day), and van trailers (130 per day).

In addition to the inproduction items, the tour saw Parkhurst's recently constructed research and development complex, where new ideas in a variety of fields are being tested.

Some of these include a new air-blown fertilizer spreader, machinery trailer, and snow mobile trailer.

One of the most recent brainchildren of research and development, a light marine dredge called Mud Cat, is currently being demonstrated to the federal government, and five other prototypes are rolling off the assembly lines.

statistics alone, the Parkhurst operation is impressive. Start with an annual payroll of $3 million and peak employes of more than 600, the most for any employer in the county.

As for consumption of materials, Parkhurst has an insatiable appetite. Some Five million pounds of steel a year; 32,000 tires; 50,000 trailer lights; 1 million pounds of aluminum; 936,000 square feet of plywood flooring, enough to cover 70 football fields; 500,000 pounds of nuts and bolts.

All the Parkhurst plants comprise a total of 325,000 square feet. The metal-forming machinery alone represents the greatest concentration of such equipment in Missouri between St. Louis and Kansas City.

At the conclusion of the tour, William R. Parkhurst, founder and president of the company, explained some of the new areas that Parkhurst is exploring. Citing the new research and development center, he said he was convinced that "research is the main ingredient" to further progress in the field.

Parkhurst also praised his rapidly growing staff, saying that "good people are the key to any operation.

Crossroads Comment...

"Post Office Cleanup Week," is the inspiration for a bit of historical lore compiled by Mrs. Peg Hale, 1624 West Seventh street.

On Saturday, March 11, 1865 Postmaster Oscar T. Crandall, advertised in the Sedalia Advertiser, a "List of Letters" remaining in the Post Office with this instruction: "To obtain any of these letters, the applicant must call for 'advertised letters,' give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising. If not called for within one month, they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.'

The list contained the names of 230 persons who had not called for their mail.

Mrs. Hale has a copy of the Sedalia Advertiser in which this list was published when the Sedalia Post Office was first located in the 100 block on West Main street. A picture of it along with neighboring business buildings appeared in a book of photographs, "100 Years in Pictures" of Sedalia during this community's centennial celebration in 1960. This valuable volume was published by Mrs. Hale's husband, Leslie L. Hale, now deceased.

Judging from the pile of undelivered letters, the Post Office had need for a "cleanup" week observance here 105 years ago.

Parenthetically, Mrs. Hale notes from an excerpt in the 1882 History of Pettis County that The Sedalia Advertiser, a weekly publication, made its debut in August 1864 under ownership of Messrs. George and Ben Lingle. It was the first Democratic paper issued in the City of Sedalia. The following April it was sold to Messrs. Magann and Stafford.

The 1882 History also records that the "leading Democrat paper of Pettis county and Central Missouri is the Sedalia Democrat, established in January 1868 by A. Y. Hull."

Further interesting data is mentioned to the effect that in the summer and fall of 1865 the first brick buildings were erected in Sedalia and the material to build them was "brought from Washington, Mo., on the cars."

Messrs. Stafford and Magann erected the first one-story brick structure on the southeast corner of Second and Ohio streets for their newspaper office. That point was then in the business suburbs of the town. The building was still standing in 1882 when it was occupied as a drug store by August Fleischmann.

Ranchers Cling to Scenic Lands

WASHINGTON — A major behind-the-scenes showdown is shaping up between Secretary of the Interior Walter Hickel and a group of powerful ranchers, including Secretary of the Army Stanley

The battleground is 8,000 spectacularly scenic acres along the twisting Snake River in Wyoming which Interior officials want to turn into a national park. The land is worth an estimated $80 million.

The irony of the controversy is that the nation's tourists would long since have held title to the property if a government surveyor had not botched his assignment back in 1893, leaving much of the land outside the public domain In addition, the shifting course of the river has obscured the boundaries and complicated the government's claim to the land. The result is that the land rests in the hands of Clifford Hansen, R-Wyo., and philanthropist Laurance Rockefeller, all men of influence during a Republican administration.

Nevertheless, the Interior Department has drafted a secret battle plan for giving the land to the public. As a national park, the study says, the Snake River site would take the pressure off the Yellowstone and Grand Teton Parks, which are increasingly crowded.

-"Land Grab!" Cry-

The Hickel study points out problems raised by the political power of ranchers in the area. In addition to Resor, Hansen and Rockefeller, there are others with pull in Wyoming State House and with the State's congressional delegation. Some are already howling, "Land grab!"

Sen. Hansen told this column that the shifting river has swallowed up Hansen family lands on one bank, while building them up on the other, thereby compounding the confusion over surveys.

Resor said he was sure his land extended all the way to the river until a recent court decision indicated the land belonged to the public. "We cleaned out the willows, thinking it was our land."

The Army Secretary said he will join with his neighbors to fight the government claims in court, if necessary.

The secret Interior study also mentioned former Rep. Teno Roncalio, D-Wyo., who still has influence in Washington left over from his congressional days.

Roncalio has put gold mining claims on some of the land, further complicating the situation.

Looking Backward

Ninety-five Years Ago E. J. Payne has just finished the roof over the Sedalia Democrat office, and he does his work so well that we have no fears of any further leaks.

Forty Years Ago Miss Anna Marie Morseman and sister, Miss Florence, the latter of Kansas City, entertained at a dinner bridge at the Pertle Springs Hotel for the following: Misses LaRue Johnson, Beatrice Shain, Norene Peabody, Cecil Tilberry, Roberta Hert, and Hazel Lang.

Twenty-five Years Ago The American Legion Auxiliary at a meeting in Parish Hall elected the following representatives to the 25th annual convention in Marshall in September: Delegates, Mrs. F. B. Piper, president; Mrs. Linda Lee Jones, Mrs. Ira K. Espe, Mrs. Alice White and Mrs. Elmer Winfrey; Alternates, Mrs. James Franks, Mrs. Homer Hall, Mrs. Herman Myers, Mrs. Allan Duff and Mrs. Cecil Glenn.

Thought for Today

Do not be afraid of sudden panic, or of the ruin of the wicked, when it comes; for the Lord will be your confidence and will keep your foot from being caught. - Proverbs 3:25, 26.

Nothing will ever be attempted if all possible tions must be first overcome. - Samuel

The Hickel plan recommends fighting both the ranchers and the mining claims. The memo adds that unless Interior upholds the people, both small and large conservation groups will be pounding on the administration's door.

What conservationists fear is that eventual sale and re-sale of some of the lands would produce hideous high-rise apartments dumping garbage into the unspoiled river, or a gaudy strip of Las Vegasstyle funhouses.

—A $4.3 Million Handout—

The J. G. Boswell Co. is America's number-one welfare recipient. Last year alone, the company raked in $4.3 million in agriculture subsidies, much of it for not growing crops on its vast Southern California farmlands.

While inner-city welfare mothers endure endless humiliation to wring a paltry stipend from the government, James G. Boswell II, the head of the company, operates in comfort and prestige.

His counsel is sought by a vast food store chain, of which he is a director. He is rarely seen in the fields, preferring instead to spend his time in his plush Los Angeles office where he tends a variety of investments.

in stark contrast to this existence is the life of the men who work in the Boswell fields. This column has seen sworn evidence that the company has systematically ignored the health and safety laws of California by failing to provide toilets, handwashing facilities and drinking water for farmhands.

A recent check indicated there had been some improvements. But in a survey in June of 1969 the same year that the company's federal subsidies hit the $4.3 million mark - investigators for California Rural Legal Assistance painted a bleak

-But When The Poor-

Although Boswell rakes in a bundle in U.S. welfare, the firm apparently does not take kindly to others who seek help from the federal government. Indeed, when three of its top field hands, Dionisio, Narcisco and Pedro Navarro, took part in demonstrations against the Kings County board of supervisors for its refusal to administer the federal food stamp program in the county, they were fired.

The Navarro brothers swear there was no other reason for their firing. They say they had been dependable workers and were always the last to be laid off during lulls.

Footnote: The House of Representatives has voted to reduce drastically the agriculture subsidy which any single farming operation can receive. Senate action is expected soon.

Democrat Pickups

People everywhere seem to be searching for their family tree. Curious, I got out my little book that I knew at least had it in part, I didn't know how much but on my mother's side of the house all was complete with names, dates of births. marriages and deaths from my great grandparents on down.

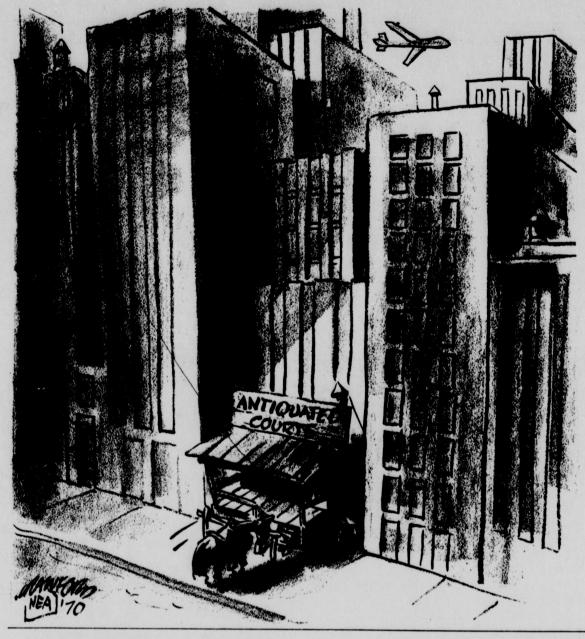

In this age when they stress that people are living longer I was fascinated to find that my grandfather's mother, who died at 52, was the youngest of two generations. His father died at 69, my grandmother's mother at 62 and her father at 67. That was a hundred years, more or less, ago.

It seemed as though if their children, in both families lived past the age of two they went over the half century mark - some way over, some almost another half century over.

My grandmother, the oldest of her family who lived the longest was 85. The others were 66, 68, 73 and 79.

My grandfather was 84. One brother died at 55, a sister died at 70, but the others were 88, 92 and 98. The dates on my father's side of the house go back only to his parents. His father died at 57 from a fall from a horse; his mother was 89. The last three deaths of all families recorded were in 1936. So people today are living longer. Maybe so, but I don't have a hankering to break my family record

Going Rough, Viet Foe Admits

By RAY CROMLEY, NEA Washington Correspondent

It is common and natural to talk of our difficulties in Vietnam. It is easy to forget the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have their own very serious internal problems.

This reporter has just read the most pessimistic assessment of the Vietnam war he has ever seen.

It was contained in a directive on how the war is to be fought in 1970 and for the forseeable future, written by the Central Office for South Vietnam (the Communist high command in the south) and directed to all provincial, municipal and military region party committees. Written in November, 1969, it was only recently captured.

This "Resolution" was not meant to be discouraging. On almost every page it boasts of the great defeats handed the Americans and South Vietnamese. The crumbling of the Saigon government is confidently predicted. Final victory is hailed.

But in directing party committees on their future tasks and away from their mistakes, it outlines what has gone wrong in the past and what is still out of kilter.

What has happened is that "we (Communists) placed too much reliance" on winning the war through military victories; "we failed" to motivate the masses-to get close to the people and get them on "our" side.

The political struggle was neglected. Propagandization of the party line has not been carried on with diligence. Party leadership has deteriorated.

The party committees have become "divorced" from the guerrillas and the guerrillas "dissociated" from the

"Such a situation has caused the guerrillas to be easily repulsed by the enemy.'

Regular army commanders have looked down on the guerrillas and refused to help them and to work with . The North Vietnamese command "at each level only takes care of its . . . subordinate force and ignores . . . lower forces," especially the guerrilla forces with which it is supposed to be co-operating.

Things have gotten so bad among North Vietnamese mainline troops, says the document, that there is a tendency for them to disperse "when faced with difficulties

... not for the purpose of joining ... with the guerrillas in order to attack the enemy anew, but rather for the purpose of shunning contact with the enemy. Such a tendency causes the main forces engaged in countering enemy sweeps to be easily decimated (defeated) and exposed to enemy psywar (psychological warfare) activities . .

The document implies the Viet Cong have become too dependent on modern weapons shipped in from Hanoi . . . They should instead "manage to obtain their ammunition and weapons by capturing from the enemy, or to produce on the spot for their own requirement.

This "separation from the people" in the communities in which the guerrillas and North Vietnamese operate has caused a loss of combat effectiveness. It has made it very difficult to recruit new men and has made "many difficulties" in "messing and billeting" troops

"As a result of our (Communist) political weaknesses" the enemy "can move right back in and recapture areas whenever our forces withdraw."

None of this should be taken as evidence Hanoi is about to give up the struggle. On the contrary, the evidence is that a decision has been made to continue indefinitely, regardless of the Paris talks.

What is indicated, however, is that things have not been going at all well for the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong. There is internal dissension. There is a shortage of weapons and equipment. The political struggle, on which all else rests is not progressing well. They have not gained that support of the people necessary for success.

Reading this document in perspective and comparing it with similar documents written by Asian Communist leaders in the past, one comes to the conclusion the Communist high command for South Vietnam is saying that the district and village underground organization (the heart of the insurgency) has deteriorated so badly that it must be rebuilt from the ground up—a process that norm-

If this analysis is correct, then Vietnamization, with all its fumbling and setbacks, may have time to succeed, and President Nixon will be enabled to continue his steady withdrawal of American troops through this year and next and well into 1972.

"Could I have made it?" he asked.

"Yes" replied Y. "You didn't have to be a better player, merely a better student of music. I was humming 'Tales from the Vienna Woods.'"

Y had seen that a Vienna coup could probably be the winning play. South cashes his ace of diamonds and runs off spades and hearts to come down to ace-kingsmall of clubs in his hand and the queen of diamonds, jack of clubs and six of spades in dummy while poor West is squeezed in the minor suits.

Q-What is the meaning of the expression "Pie in the

A-The expression came into usage from a song adopted for the I.W.W. movement. Originally a hobo song, it promises the down-trodden that after a life of eating hay, they will have their "pie in the sky."

Q-What was the first locomotive to travel at a speed of 100 miles per hour? A-In 1893, Locomotive 999 made the world's first 100-m.p.h. run.

With a Heigh-ho, A-shopping We Go

By BETTY CANARY

My son needed a new bathing suit to finish off the season. I decided to go to the shopping center on the off chance of finding one that had been forgotten when they cleared the shelves for sweaters and corduroy coats. They told me to come back in January. It wasn't a completely wasted trip because I bought him some underwear for school.

I usually shop by telephone for staples such as underwear and navy blue cardigan sweaters. First, because it saves time. Second, it saves money. (One passes few ice cream stores on the way to my hall telephone.) Third, it saves wear and tear on the nerves. Not just my nerves, but the children's nerves. If you've never held onto a boy in a store while checking the size label of his underwear, then I don't expect you to understand this. I have long suspected there are people who actually enjoy shopping. I suspect there are even people who say, "Heigh-ho, I'm off to look for a swimsuit," and that's the end of it. They get into cars and go. As a matter of fact I once knew a woman who SAID "Heigh-ho, etc." But apart from that, and rather close-set eyes, there wasn't a thing

At our house, nothing is ever quite so simple. When I announce an impending trip to the shopping center, everyone in the family, and sometimes utter strangers, rush up with lists of items I am to pick up for them.

None of these lists are organized so that I can quickly sort through them and decide to go first to the drugstore, then the department store, then, hopefully, to the jewelry shop and the book stall before dropping down lap-laden and splayfooted at the lunch counter. Invariably I get half the purchases and then retrace my steps in order to finish off the lists. I'm not complaining about this. If I ever decide to try for the Olympic cross-country team, I'll be ready.

I'm not really complaining about doing shopping for others either. It saves me lots of money I would otherwise have spent on bathing suits or winter boots or whatever was in season when I left the house. Obviously, by the time I have plodded through stores looking for egg whisks and hairbrushes and model glue and peace posters, I'm too tired and have no time left for my shopping.

If my shopping is an absolute necessity, then I take the children along. I give each a list and we plan to rendezvous at a certain place. By the time they have completed their lists, as well as spending hours taking photographs of themselves and investing the last of their savings in gumball machines and handwriting analysis booths, I have usually finished.

Then all we have to do is find the car. If I've been lucky, I've parked it in a close-in slot and we walk only a mile farther than the distance to our house.

Hospital 'Withdrawal' Best for Heavy Drinkers

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q — Can a man who is a confirmed alcoholic stop drinking suddenly without any ill effects? Would excessive drinking cause him to le and lose weight? A — Because sudden withdrawal of alcohol from a heavy drinker often causes the shakes and may cause delirium tremens, it should be done in a hospital. Excessive drinking does cause loss of appetite and weight. Q — My doctor has been giving me Librium for a nervous condition caused by alcoholism. He suddenly changed to Sparine. What could be the reason for this?

A - Such changes are usually made to avoid unpleasant side effects or drug dependency.

Q - Can disulfiram (Antabuse) be bought without a prescription? A - No. It should be taken only under medical supervision.

Q - Is a man who regularly drinks three to five pints of beer daily an alcoholic? A - Not necessarily, but he's heading in that direction. Q - My sister has an acute myelitis and was paralyzed from her hips down. She is making a slow recovery. Is there any cure for this? Is it related in any way to multiple sclerosis?

A - Myelitis is an inflammation of the spinal cord. Although there are several varieties of this disease, including polio, there is no specific cure. The severity of the disease varies widely. Aside from the fact that multiple sclerosis and myelitis both involve the spinal cord, there is no connection between the two.

Q — What are the symptoms of undulant fever? Is there a cure for it?

A - The usual attack of undulant fever or brucellosis starts with a slight rise in temperature, headache, weakness, insomnia, loss of appetite and generalized aching pains. Tetracycline and similar antibiotics will cure this disease.

Q — What is Mandelamine given for? How long is it safe to take it?

A — Methenamine mandelate (Mandelamine) is a prescription drug given for infections of the kidneys and bladder. It may be given as long as the infection exists but the dosage must be carefully controlled to prevent painful urination, nausea and

Clean Marble Floors With Hot, Sudsy Water

By POLLY CRAMER

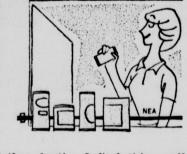

DEAR POLLY—I would like to tell K.M., who wanted to know how to care for her marble floor, that I lived with know how to care for her marble floor, that I lived with marble floors for two years in Turkey and found that mopping with hot, sudsy water, followed by a clear water rinsing, took care of the worst dirt. Once they are really clean, a very thin application of paste wax would buff (with an electric polisher) to a long-lasting shine. Coolwater moppings took care of day-to-day spots and spills. In fact, I found marble floors to be the easiest to care for. They do have a tendency to be very hard on falling children's hands but once the youngsters learn to walk well there is no problem.—LUCY-RAE

DEAR GIRLS—Any liquid spills on marble floors should be washed off with clear water as soon as possible. A polishing with putty or pumice powder on a damp cloth will often help any dullness. When using wax, be sure to remove any excess from the crevices for a wax build-up in those spots may cause a discoloration. There are also marble-polishing products on the market.-POLLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—My stainless steel cookware is scorched on the bottom. Every time I use it there are scorches in the same spots. Is there anything I can do to make these spots usable again?—FRANCES

DEAR POLLY-I have found an easy way to keep glasses, jars, etc., on the cupboard shelves in campers or trailers from tipping over while traveling. Cut wide elastic the length of your cupboard and, with thumbtacks or small nails, tack one end of the elastic to one side of the cupboard and the other and to the

and the other end to the other side. Place jars, glasses and so on back of the elastic. I find this really works.—BARBARA

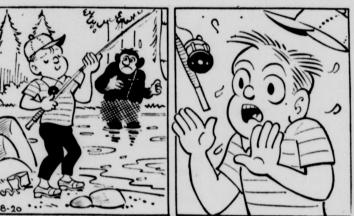

DEAR POLLY—I save old shower curtains to use for covering summer outdoor furniture and also the barbecue in case of rain.—MARY K.

Illegally OKed Phone Increases

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Howard Elliot, Jr., a member of the Missouri Public Service Commission, said Thursday the other four commission members illegally approved two recent rate increases to telephone companies. Elliot, of St. Louis County, said the commissioners used 1970 figures for revenue, expenses and capital outlay instead of those for 1969 when rate increases were granted July 28 to Missouri State Telephone Co., and Missouri Central Telephone Co. Both firms are based in Wentzville. Missouri Central serves eight counties and Missouri States serves 32 counties. Elliot said no other state used a test year ending in the future as a basis for rate decisions. He said the commission's action, of using the firms' 1970 construction budgets, increased net costs and resulted in the allowance of excessive rates. The commission's new formula, Elliot said, "is an open invitation for utility abuse of the regulatory process in this

Payments Barred By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate voted Thursday to bar payments to U.S. allies in Vietnam of supplemental allowances larger than those received by American soldiers. The action by voice vote could stir reaction in at least two of the countries-Korea and Thailand-to be visited next week by

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C. while not formally opposing the amendment by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said "it may excite them and cause them to immediately decide to withdraw their troops. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreigh Relations Committee and a long-time war critic. aimed the amendment at a practice uncovered by a subcommittee that looked into the arrangements by which those countries decided to send troops to Vietnam.

"I believe it is time that we stop making mercenaries out of allies and allies out of mercenaries," Fulbright said. He contended that none of the countries would have sent troops to Vietnam without the promise of extra allowances.

Despite the allowances, which sometimes run seven times those paid Americans, the Thai and Korean soldiers in Vietnam still receive far less total pay than U.S. troops due to their lower base pay.

Fulbright noted that the highest special combat allowance for American forces in Vietnam is $65 a month, while a Thai lieutenant gets $120 from the United States each month compared with only $50 from his own country. Fulbright's amendment was attached to the $19.2 billion military procurement bill.

-this summer.' Diaz Ordaz said he was sure the results of conversations the two presidents began later at a seaside hotel in this picturesque resort city will be most fruitful.,

The two chief executives launched together with the Mexican President host at the American equivalent of a state dinner. Afterward, they headed into an exchange of views on problems arising from meanderings of the Rio Grande River, traffic and drugs, trade and the volume of salt in the Colorado River flowing through both

An ocean front private home was the Nixon's retreat in Puerto Vallarta, which has become a popular resort since "Night of the Iguana," starring Richard Burton and Ava Gardner, was filmed here.

After the airport ceremony the two presidents climbed into Diaz Ordaz' open car for a fiesta-tinged tour through Puerto Vallarta, through an almost unremitting shower of confetti tossed down through windowed balconies.

Beneath a many-hued arch at the city limits, Nixon received a golden key to the city from a beautiful young lady, smiled and spoke his thanks.
